Minorio Miles TO-MORROW.

Sunday, September 18.

There are in this world a good many bly things wh ch it is easy to describe. instance, Mont Blanc is big, but it is p'e to tell an ignorant man that it is so many times as high as an ordinary house an I so much smaller than Mount Everest, which is about eight mues high, and thus to drive into his head some conception of its greatness. It is easy also to give some idea to an average miellect of the relative importance of certain great men. You may say, "He is smoother in his talk then Coudert, less impressive than Bourke Cockran, more A FRIEND IN NEED. superficial than Harrison, less conceited than Tom Reed." and thus present a fairly reliable portrait of Mr. Depew. But how shall a man describe a thing to wh ch nothing else may properly be compared? How, for instance, shall he make the average simple-minded, well meaning reader apprecate the full meaning of the words to morrow's SUNDAY WORLD? It is a thing which cannot be done. Rival newspapers bark at THE WORLD just as little termers with wobbly legs bark at big St. Bernards, but their envious music gives only a slight idea of the profound inferiority which afflicts them. One may tru hfully stick all the other papers un in a row, then mention THE SUNDAY World with all the complimentary adjectives in the dictionary strung along after it, in the comparative degree, and not tell half of its viriues. All that the most earnest and conscientions writer of advertisements can do is to select a few of the features which make THE WORLD exist, meaning to imply that every American is such a fine creation that there is nothing average about him. But that is a DEAR WOMEN. mistake. The av-rage American fills the land. An important part of THE SUNDAY World's duty is to make him sourcer by elevating him and improving his average. For instance, it is a gloomy tact that the average American knows nothing at all ut Christopher Columbus. In a general was he knows that Columbus dispovered this country, provided homes for us and made it possible for us to enjoy e intense satisfaction of licking England. But the poor little tool who spends hours telling folks what great men his supposed ancestors were, simply because th-y came here when home was too hot to hold them, has no conception of work which Columbus did, or of the qualities which made it pos-ible to take a ship smader than a North River terry-boat and sail across the ocean, with a lot of men who expected to drop over the edge of the world at any ent. To-morrow for the edification of the average American, THE SUNDAY WORLD Will publish Washington Irving's description of Chris opher Columbus's voyage. It will be printed complete, and when you have read it, you will have a new respect for the man whom the Chieago people are going to celetrate. All of the pictures of Columbus which have any torical value will be reproduced and carefully engraved on fine paper. The art work is done by Mr. Gribayedoff, who knows how to do such things. The various faces of Columbus, as different artists saw them, must interest every man. Of course be will tail to see in any one of them the greatness which columbus must have ed, and that is very interesting in Whatever he does, THE SUNDAY WORLD will tell about it so graphically and so simply, with phrases made short on purpose, that every lighting and sporting man in the country will be made supr mely happy. The difference between Mr. Sullivan and the olden time vanquished ones will be that all the money and most of the cheers will be for him. He will doubtless wear green stockings, and impress his old triends with the ession that he was hypnotized at New Orleans. Every man who loves John L. Sullivan with any kind of sincere affection should go to that benefit without tali, to swell Sulitvan's pocketbook, and then read THE SUNDAY WORLD'S Sympathetic account of the event to add to his reverence for Sullivan's name. It will be a great event, and will be treated as solemnly by THE SUNDAY WORLD ES would have been the departure of Napoleon for St. Helens, if THE SUNDAY

THE AMERICAN REFORTER.

This important and rapidly developing use of this century will be scrutinized than writes profound books, which are so tended to dishearten him. He was a candidate for the Democratic chartens before the hand they are so profound that the Lopdon Time is issued to hire him to restrict the makes money in that way, and is quite contented. The American reporter suggests the old London gentleman. Because of London that the local reporter suggests the old London gentleman. Because of London that the local reporter suggests the old London gentleman. Because of London the local reporter suggests the old London gentleman. Because of London the local reporter suggests the old London gentleman. Because of London the local reporter suggests the old London gentleman.

SUNDAY WORLD'S account of the reporter is written by a reporter, and by a mighty wright who leels that he must put a reporter in his play to make less of an idlot of blinself than ne ordinarily does under such circumstances. Specific cases of renewspaper men are quoted, the wisdom of Mr. John B. Howart, never surpassed, is rehearsed for the benefit of the rising reporter, and a good many business men who have mistaken the reporter's tolerance of the business man's bad breesing for a recognition of the business man's superior; will perceive their mis ake. To be a good reporter a man must possess more sera sof human intelligence than it takes to make a number of usual everyday grubbers. This is not modest, but it is a fact.

That is the title of a story which Mr. Roswell M. Fleid has written for THE SUNDAY WORLD. Mr. Field in his st ry heart netween two young people. It is a noble work and will doubtless make many young women ourn their cheeks with tears. Mr. Field writes a good story, and those who read Tak Wonth will be glad to know that he will write for them right atons.

This man is the funniest artist in the whole world, with the possible exception of McDougall and one or two Germans. He is so funny that it you want to buy any of his works you have to ask a long time in advance and see his young temale secretary. He has got past the stage of thinking how much he will charge for what he does. His latest alturn, which has just appeared, should wring tears from the most rejuctant eye.
